Putty Glazed Historic Wood Windows

Our stain grade pine putty glazed windows are available for replacement and historic renovations.

One question that we are often asked is how soon after we produce a window can the putty be painted.

We use the best traditional knife grade linseed oil glazing compound available for glazing and bedding glass in wood sash. The putty is the quickest surface skinning product and forms a strong surface skin in one week depending on temperatures. It remains elastic and flexible throughout its lifetime. Allow at least 14 days to cure before painting with oil or latex paint.

Need a historic double-hung with frame? We can do that with concealed hardware eliminating the need for weights and cords.
