THOUGHTS TO SHARE ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE CTY COLLECTION

"When our Architectural Design Team researched numerous new motifs, we kept going back to something that was Art and had Heart.

As we developed GeoFacets, we saw geometric shapes and stones. But in its final interpretation, we saw the Earth and it's landscape with its facets, roads, rivers...thus GeoFacets was born. Something to care about.

As we developed Spectrum, we were researching sound and light waves, and how they break into spectrums. Sparks of energy are interwoven and entangled with the waves..thus Spectrum was born.

Then we were researching an artistic tilt to a contemporary motif, and worked with Matt Miller [mattmillerstudio.com]. His paintings involved rock-n-roll icons, energy, and contemplative observations. His work was creative, unique, fresh, and highly textured...thus Emergent was born.

Being schooled in Classical mouldings and motifs, stretching outward into the contemporary was wonderful.

We set our intention to create a simple line, unique, sophisticated, varied and full of ArtHeart, and we succeeded.

Enjoy!"
